You must have little tickets, which you can get from College Senator Cahill or their Instagram. They are also holding a Krispy Kreme fundraiser. It is $13 for a dozen donuts. The pre-order ends November 23rd, but they will be tabling on November 28th outside of the Mountainlair and selling singular donuts. If anyone is interested in pre-ordering a dozen, let College Senator Cahill know.

Senator Santmyer: Women in Politics and Government is holding two drives, one for the Appalachian Prison Book Project which has bins in the main floor of the Lair, on the first floor of Health Sciences, and outside the bookstore entrance on the ground floor of Health Sciences. They are also doing a drive for the United Way Food Drives with bins in the Mountainlair. If anyone has any non-perishable food donations, books, or composition notebooks feel free to drop them off in the donation bins.

Iona Rutledge: Student Organization Liaison Staten and Intern Iona have been working on the next President's Forum, which is happening next Monday at 6pm in the Mountainlair Mountaineer Room. If anyone runs a student organization or is in a student organization you are encouraged to come. They will be covering grant and trademark processes.

Communications Coordinator Perry: Do you like mac and cheese? Alpha Phi is having their annual Mac & Phi's event on Sunday from 12pm to 3pm. If you love mac and cheese, want to support a cause giving money to women's heart health, the number one killer of women, or if you want to see the inside of a sorority house please feel free to stop by. You will see College Senator Schwartzmiller, Senator Santmyer, and Outreach Coordinator Crouch working.

College Senator Milam: WVU Believe Them has free Plan B for any student that needs it or knows someone who needs it. X. Advisors' Reports

Advisor Le: The Toy Mountain is starting to take shape and will be collecting toys until November 30th. They challenge all student organizations to give to the initiative which will be going out to local Morgantown children. The student org that donates the most toys will win a $200 grant from SEL. The second place org receives $150, and the third place org wins $100. There is an Amazon wishlist where you can choose a toy and ship it right to SEL, or you can go shopping but make sure it is a $5 toy and that it is in the original packaging and not a used toy.

The Rack launched an initiative to give out Thanksgiving boxes to students. In previous years, the number of boxes was capped at fifty; however, this year they are already at ninety. If anyone wants to donate towards that, there are certain items they are looking for posted on their social media pages. They are anticipating even more as the sign-ups will be open until November 16th. There is a tremendous need. For those that need a box, please sign-up for one. There will be no cap this year and they will be filling every box possible.

The satellite location of the Rack, the SnackRack, is open in the Student Recreation Center Monday through Thursday from 1pm to 3pm and from 6pm to 8pm and Friday from 1pm to 4pm. They are offering snack items and wellness products. The pantry is self-funded by grants and private donations and does not use any student fees or tuition. They have seen tremendous growth over the past year and are already surpassing double the capacity of last year. They are seeing a need and are hoping to fulfill that commitment. Some of the folks from SGA have connected with the Rack about the Swipe Out Hunger program.

Breanna Britt: In previous years, some SGA members have helped with the toy collection at some basketball games. Last year, toys were only collected during one game, but this year they will be collecting at one men's and one woman's game. The first game is the men's game on Tuesday, November 15th against Morehead. The women's game is on November 30th. If anyone would like to volunteer, they need a couple people to help collect toys at each gate. They start coming in as soon as people enter the doors. If anyone has any questions, please reach out to Breanna Britt or one of the advisors.
